Agreement Terms:

Ownership:

- The dog will reside with the guardian, but the breeder retains full ownership and stud rights until the end of the dog's breeding career, at which point ownership will be transferred to the guardian.

Stud Rights and Responsibilities:

- The breeder has the right to use the dog for stud purposes a specified number of times, as agreed upon in this contract.
- The guardian agrees to make the dog available for breeding purposes as required by the breeder.

Veterinary Care and Health Testing:

- The breeder will cover all costs associated with breeding and health testing.
- The guardian is responsible for routine veterinary care and any non-breeding-related medical expenses.

Care and Maintenance:

- The guardian agrees to provide proper care, including quality food, exercise, and a safe living environment.
- The dog must be kept well-groomed and in good physical condition.

Breeding Process:

- The guardian agrees to notify the breeder immediately if any health issues arise that may affect the dog's breeding capability.
- The guardian will allow the dog to stay with the breeder as needed for breeding purposes.

End of Breeding Career:

- Upon completion of the dog's breeding career, as determined by the breeder, ownership will be officially transferred to the guardian.
- The breeder agrees to neuter the dog at their expense before transferring ownership.

Non-Breeding Clause:

- If the dog is deemed unable to breed due to health reasons, as determined by a licensed veterinarian, the guardian will be granted full ownership rights.
- The guardian agrees to pay the breeder half the purchase price of the dog if it were not part of the guardian program as compensation for the loss of breeding potential.

Return Clause:

- If the guardian can no longer care for the dog, the dog must be returned to the breeder.

Agreement to Terms:

- Both parties agree to abide by the terms of this agreement and acknowledge that failure to do so may result in the return of the dog to the breeder.
